Question 7 and 8– Unit types and definitions, Policies.

CALL SIGN ALLOCATION PRACTICE

Police have two broad systems for allocation of call-signs to units. Both systems are generally intended to identify the following either separately or together:

- Geographic area of responsibility/coverage or home station
- Role or type of work predominantly undertaken eg traffic enforcement or CIB
- Rank or supervisory level

The systems do differ slightly between the three Comms Centres situated in Auckland, Wellington and Christchurch.

The first system based on these broad categories for each of the three Comms Centres is detailed below. These lists have been in place for some time and due to the changing role and focus of Police have been adapted as needs required so are not perfectly reflective of call-signs that have been allocated.

NORTH COMMS CALLS SIGNS

Definition of Callsigns

First two letters - station code (Region units use R1 or R2 )

Third letter - unit type as listed below

Suffix Numbers:

Rostered shifts: 1= Early, 2=Late, 3=Night 4 and 5 spare/swingshifts

Non rostered shifts eg CIB etc - 1 or 2 numbers indicating the identity of the unit.

Specialist units (Dogs, CVIU, Photos/Fingerprints, 2 numbers assigned to the individual officer.

Unit Type

A	Commissioned Officer
B	Beat Unit
C	Crime Car
D	Dog Unit

W	Special Traffic - STU/ CVIU/ Speed Camera
X	General CIB
Y	Youth Aid / YES
Z	Diplomatic / VIP /Witness Protection

CENTRAL COMMS CALL SIGNS

Definition of Callsigns – Central Comms

A typical callsign is: WNI1

The first two letters relate to the station code, in this case Wellington.

The I is the Unit Type and means I-Car (Incident patrol)

1 means that it belongs to group 1.

A means that it is the 2nd I'Car with attributes as above.

RNZPC Callsigns

All RNZPC callsigns start with PC for Police College.

PCU = Unit has recruits, but is under control/guidance of a Sworn Member.

PCG = Unit has recruits, but is under control/guidance of a Non Sworn Member.

Not available to assist Operational Staff

SOUTH COMMS CALL SIGNS

Definition of Callsigns

A typical callsign is: CH11

The first two letters relate to the station code, in this case Christchurch.

The 'I' is the Unit Type and means I-Car (Incident patrol)

'1' means that it belongs to Group 1. '2' = Group 2 and so on

'A' means that it is the 2nd 'I' Car with attributes as above.

Due to these changing roles, focus areas and ways of doing things a trial of a new call-sign allocation model is underway in the Police Districts of Counties-Manukau and Bay of Plenty along with some minor differences in places such as Police College.

This new call-sign allocation model is detailed on the following page. It is five characters in length and consists of the following elements:

Command Code

- 2 letters that identifies the geographical area of responsibility

Unit Type

- 1 letter + 1 digit that identifies the type of unit

Unique Identifier

- 1 letter or 1 digit that provides for uniqueness as well as differentiates between supervisory units from others
- Digit = Supervisory/NCO level and above
- Letter = Others
